NEWS & NOTES

ONWARD AND UPWARD... A handful of former Chiefs continue to grow in their professional hockey careers, including Adam Beckman, who made his NHL debut with the Minnesota Wild on Saturday, Oct. 30. Netminder Dustin Tokarski (BUF) has logged four wins so far this season and has posted a .903 SV% and 3.28 GAA. Spokane native Kailer Yamamoto (EDM) scored in back-to-back games for the Oilers on Monday, Nov. 1 against the Seattle Kraken and then again on Wednesday, Nov. 3 against the Nashville Predators. Yamamoto has logged six points so far this season on five goals and an assist. Minnesota Wild captain and former Chiefs defenseman Jared Spurgeon has tallied 11 points so far (3G-8A), including a two-point effort against the Las Vegas Golden Knights on Dec. 12. Two current Chiefs also traveled to NHL training camps this year, Bear Hughes (WAS) and Graham Sward (COL).

ON THE HORIZON... The Spokane Chiefs selected forward Berkly Catton first overall to headline their 2021 WHL Prospects Draft. They had six picks within the first 100 overall, selecting Catton, D William McIsaac (28th), F Luka Shcherbyna (41st), D Nathan Mayes (51st), F Cole Wadsworth (73rd) and F Cameron Parr (96th). In total, the Chiefs made 11 picks in the draft, including eight forwards, two defensemen and one goalie. British Columbia was well-represented, with six players hailing from the province. Two came from Manitoba, one from Saskatchewan, one from Alberta and one from Idaho. Players selected in this year's WHL draft are first eligible to join the Chiefs as full-time players during the 2022-23 season. They can be called up as Affiliate Players for limited games this season. Catton, Shcherbyna, Mayes and McIsaac have all signed WHL Standard Player Agreements.

MIDTERM MARKS... A pair of Chiefs were among those listed on the NHL Central Scouting Service's midterm rankings, with netminder Mason Beaupit ranked at seventh among North American goalies and defenseman Graham Sward ranked at 148th among North American skaters. One of the Chiefs' international prospects David Jiricek is also on the list, ranked fourth among International skaters. A defenseman from the Czech Republic, Spokane selected Jiricek with the 54th overall pick of the 2020 CHL Import Draft. He's spent this season with HC Plzen, where he's posted 11 points on five goals and six assists in 29 games played.

MAKING MOVES... Prior to Monday's trade deadline, the Chiefs dealt forward Cordel Larson (2001) to the Moose Jaw Warriors for forward Cade Hayes (2002) and a third-round pick in the 2022 WHL Prospects Draft. The Chiefs also acquired forward Nick McCarry (2001) and a second-round pick in the 2025 WHL Prospects Draft in exchange for forward Luke Toporowski (2001). Forward Copeland Fricker (2003) and defenseman Ben Bonni (2004) have been officially reassigned but will remain on the club's 50-man protected list, eligible to play for the Chiefs as Affiliated Players. Forward James Form (2002) has been released.

DOWN AND OUT... The Chiefs are currently managing three injuries: forward Reed Jacobson (lower body; day-to-day) and defensemen Mac Gross (lower body; day-to-day) and Saige Weinstein (upper body; day-to-day).

LAST GAME... The Spokane Chiefs narrowly avoided another shutout Saturday night, losing to the rival Tri-City Americans 4-1 on the road. After a slow start, Sasha Mutala kicked things off for Tri-City at 15:53 in the first period with help from Samuel Huo and Marc Lajoie. That'd be the only scoring action in the first 20 minutes of the game. The Americans blew the game open in the second period, with three unanswered goals at 4:29 (Mutala), 8:40 (Huo) and 14:29 from Mutala again to complete his hat trick. The Chiefs were able to keep Tri-City at bay for the rest of the game, successfully killing four penalties in the third period. Defenseman Timafey Kovgorennya got Spokane on the board and shut down the shutout in the nick of time, firing the puck from the point to the net at 17:54 in the third. Despite the loss, Mason Beaupit was strong in net, turning aside 30 of 34 shots faced on the night. Spokane were outshot 34-30 and went 0-for-1 on the power play and 4-for-5 on the penalty kill.
